

Cedar Rapids Seeks Feedback from Public on Economic Growth

The City of Five Seasons is looking to residents to help cast a vision for strong economic development. Partnering with key local stakeholders, the City of Cedar Rapids has commissioned AngelouEconomics to help identify the leading industries that benchmark Cedar Rapids competitively against other communities – discovering our strengths and unveiling a crisp picture of how Cedar Rapids can leverage those natural assets. This city-wide effort will help align the strategies of local businesses, investors, and economic developers to champion the direction of the city and grow robust new strategies together.

Residents, employees, and local businesses play a key role in helping the City identify its strongest industries and determining what actions are needed to create a vibrant economic landscape. Resident input will help craft strategies for job growth, professional resources, and lifestyle enhancements.
