Learn more about careers
at ICRfuture.org

It's your future; start prepping for it now.

ICRfuture.org is a new career-connected learning hub that offers career information like salaries, high-demand career needs in the region, opportunities for internships and job shadows, and a calendar of career exploration and skill-building programs and camps ideal for 6th–12th graders.

Use the site to identify careers that interest you, and then identify high school electives and early college opportunities, postsecondary options, internships, and summer programs that can set you on the path for success.
